

Keiran for Welfare!

Aims...

- Set up a Welfare Station in the JCR (tea, coffee, hot choc...) because self-care is important! And you might not always want to speak to someone
- Organise Pepper-Walking once or twice a week- complete with toys and treats!
- Compliment / inspirational-message jar in the pidge that anybody can take or add to
- Continue the push for more animal-centred welfare events in college
- A greater number (and variety!) of non-alcoholic events, such as trips to the boardgame cafe
- More optional mental-and-sexual-health workshops and events throughout term
- Recognise and adapt to the fact that freshers will have been through a pandemic, away from academia, social events, etc. for a long time
- And I'll always be there to help you up when you fall down!!! —————>

Hello!

- Hi everyone! I'm Keiran, a first year historian who'd love to be your new Male Welfare Rep 😊
- We can all agree that Christian and Ceci did a ~phenomenal~ job this year and it'd be fantastic to get the chance to build on all they've done
- I think I'd make a great fit for this role, because of my easy-going, people-sensitive nature, and my approachability
- My low number of contact hours means I can effectively and flexibly manage my time (for drop-ins, etc.) around my workload
- I was an ambassador in a program at my Sixth-form which helped children who were struggling with their work- there was a big welfare aspect to this!
